

Dear lucky buyer,

First of all, don't be surprised by the discrepancy between the price you have been charged for those tickets and the price displayed on them. Indeed, I've listed them on the secondary market where the prices are based on supply and demand. Moreover, I have the most competitive prices of the market so be reassured you got the best price available.

I'm the member owner of these tickets and I'm selling them exceptionally as I cannot attend, only members can attend this game. So for you as a non-member you must follow carefully the instructions below:

1. Your seat(s) are located in the Chelsea Section so you must be a Chelsea or Neutral fan. Do not wear any clothing that represents the AWAY team. Also, during the game do not show any support towards the Away team. If any behaviour favouring the Away team is spotted, the stadium security staff can deny your access to the game or even send you out!
2. I advise you to go around 45 minutes before the Kick Off to avoid any questions about the owner of the ticket. But if at any moment someone asks you where you got your ticket from? simply say " you got it as a gift from a friend who forwarded you the ticket."
3. You must scan the barcode at the turnstile to get in

If anything should happen don't worry, you shall contact me directly and I'll make sure that you attend the game but if you've respected the instructions above everything will go smoothly
